

Bolero

Renato Zamberlan
2018

 HORM

Bolero is characterized by dimensional versatility combined with experimentation of innovative materials such as the Fenix-NTA®, with a Hamilton Steel finish. Fixed or extendable with two extensions, Bolero is a minimal table, with very reduced volumes and thicknesses. Its main characteristic is aesthetic and structural lightness. The ends of the table are embellished with details in Canaletto walnut or natural flamed oak which are applied by hand.

The top and extensions are in Fenix-NTM® either in white or black or in Fenix-NTA® with a Hamilton Steel finish.

In world premiere, Horm uses this innovative material (the NTA version® of Fenix) which creates a treated metal surface using nanotechnology which makes it warm and silky to the touch, scratch and fingerprint resistant, water repellent and super matt.
