LEON —

StH, 2002

Модель Leon обладает впечатляющим оптическим эффектом, который определяет его основную характеристику: выглядеть по-разному в зависимости от точки наблюдения. Если смотреть прямо, то фасады украшены узором из разноцветных вертикальных линий, однако смотря на них сбоку, преобладает светлый или темный однородный цвет. Благодаря игре теней, которая создается за счет окружающего освещения, этот эффект присутствует также в версии с однородной белой крашеной отделкой.

LEON —

Leon plays with an awe-provoking optical effect that underlies its salient feature, that is, a standpoint-dependent visualization. From the front, the doors appear marked by vertical multi-coloured stripes yet, when observed from the side, dark or light uniformity prevails. Even the unique lacquered white finish produces the same effects through room lighting.

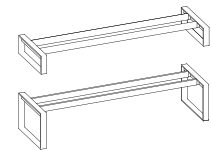

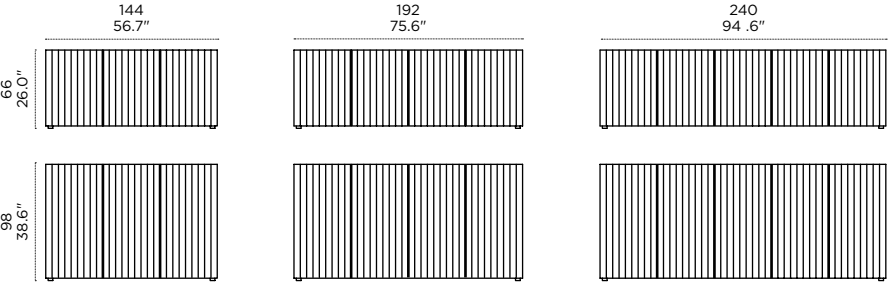

LEON —

Leon gioca con un suggestivo effetto ottico che determina la sua caratteristica saliente: apparire diverso a seconda del punto di osservazione. Frontalmente le ante sono scandite da un motivo a righe verticali policrome ma, osservandole lateralmente, prevale l’omogeneità chiara o scura. Anche la versione in finitura unica, laccata bianca, funziona grazie al gioco d’ombre che si crea con la luce d’ambiente.

LEON —

Leon juega con un impresionante efecto óptico que determina su característica más destacada: tener un aspecto diferente en función del punto de observación. Visto de frente, las puertas aparecen marcadas por el motivo a rayas verticales de varios colores, pero desde la observación lateral, se impone la uniformidad oscura o clara. También la versión única con acabado único, pintado de blanco, funciona gracias al juego de sombras determinado mediante la luz ambiental.
