SAM BARON

PETITE FRITURE

SAM BARON

Born in France in 1976, Sam Baron has a degree in Design from the Fine Arts School of Saint-Étienne and a post-graduate degree from the National Decorative Arts School of Paris. He is an independent designer and currently heads the design department of Fabrica, in the communications research centre in Treviso. He lives between Paris, Lisbon and Treviso and channels his designs through the biggest international galleries and manufacturers - Zanotta, Ligne Roset, Nilufar, Secondome and others.

He regularly dedicates beautiful and affordable collections to the public, collections that today can be found in the La Redoute catalogue in France, or Casamania in Italy. In 2010 he has been awarded as Designer of the Year at Maison&Objet.

« Sam Baron generates artistic dialogue between traditional savoir-faire and ultra-contemporary forms. »

SO-SAGE
PENDANT LAMPS
SAM BARON

Edition 2016

SO-SAGE...
ACCORDING TO ITS DESIGNER :

« Suspended from the ceiling, in groups or alone, these lights playfully remind us of the strings of sausages we see hanging in traditional butchers or...the innocent flight of a party balloon. Their transparency reveals the contours of their different designs and allows the light to diffuse through this magnificent and fascinating material. »

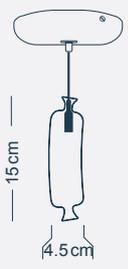

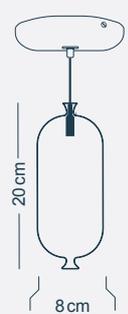

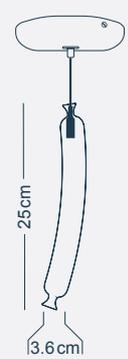

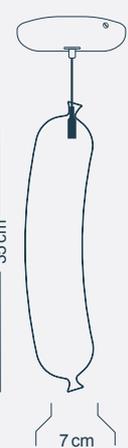

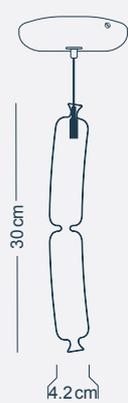

SO-SAGE is the new story invented by Sam Baron and Petite Friture.

They appear like glass sausages hanging as they would in a traditional butchers, of different sizes and forms, that illuminate mischievously thanks to a levitating light. Each is unique.

Created in borosilicate the SO-SAGE come in threes, fives or live their life as a lone sausage.
